BURNSVILLE POLICE INVESTIGATE STABBINGS

On Wednesday, Oct. 7 at approximately 1:50 a.m., Burnsville police officers were dispatched to the 13400 block of Xerxes Avenue on the report of a fight in a residence. While en route, officers were notified that the fight was believed to involve weapons, including a gun and knife.

As officers arrived, they encountered two males walking away from the scene with stab wounds. Both individuals were secured, and transported by paramedics to Hennepin County Medical Center. They appear to have non-life threatening injuries.

When officers arrived at the residence in question, they discovered that the front door and a window were broken. Officers were met by one male and two females in the home. A second male was found hiding in the home's basement. No one in the home sustained significant injuries.

While the situation is still under investigation, officers believe the stabbing resulted from an escalated argument between two parties familiar with one another, and that there is no immediate threat to the community. The suspect in the stabbing is currently in custody.
