WHAT CAN YOU DO FOR POLLINATORS?

Burnsville to Host Seminar on Creating Pollinator-Friendly Gardens

Bees, butterflies and other pollinators are on the decline, and they need help!

Participants in this seminar will join award-winning author Heather Holm to discuss the types of native pollinators that visit local gardens – and learn how to choose the right native plants to provide them with food, water and nesting habitat.

What: Seminar: Creating Pollinator-Friendly Gardens
Who: Burnsville Residents Only
When: Wednesday, Aug. 2 | 6:15 – 7:15 p.m.
Where: Burnhaven Library | 1101 County Road 42 W.
Cost: FREE
Register: Register online at www.burnsville.org/nativeplants

Space is limited. Please register in advance. Heather Holm is recognized as a top expert on pollinators and has traveled throughout the midwest and northeast to educate audiences about the fascinating world of bees and other pollinators.

For more information or to register visit www.burnsville.org/nativeplants or call the City's Natural Resources division at 952-895-4543.
